Provincial Women's Championship Format History:

The first women's provincial championship took place in 1951. In the early years the province was broken in half and a playdown was held east and west with the two teams meeting. From 1964 to 1969 a 4 team round robin was held. In 1970 and 1971 a semi-modified 4 team draw was used. In 1972, 16 competed with 4 groups playing a semi-modified knockout with the winner of each group playing a straight knockout championship. From 1977 to 2000, the teams played a semi-modified knockout event. In 2001 the current 16 team round robin draw (2 groups of 8 teams) with the page playoff was introduced. In 2020, the number of competing teams was reduced to 12 (2 groups of 6 teams) The top 2 teams from each division play in a championship round to eliminate one team. Top team receives bye to final the 2 and 3 place teams play in semi-final. In 2021 there was no playdown because of the pandemic. Jennifer Jones team being last years runner up was chosen to represent the province. In 2022, 2023, 12 teams compete split into 2 groups of 6, the top three in each group advanced to the championship round with the first place team playing the winner of 2 vs 3.

Canadian Women's Championship Format History

The early years involved a Western Canadian Championship which began in 1953. The first Canadian Championship took place in 1961 with 10 provinces competing. In 1976, Yukon/Northwest Territories became the 11 team. In 1986 the Team Canada concept was introduced where the last years champions came back as Team Canada. The format has always been a round robin format, where each province or territory played one game against the other representatives. In the beginning the team with the best win loss record after the round robin was completed was declared the champion. In 1979 the first playoff format was introduced. The playoff format had the top three teams reaching the championship round with the first place team receiving a bye to the final. Beginning in 1995, the championship adopted the Page Playoff system. In 2018, the event was expanded to 16 teams in two pools of 8 teams. In 2021 the event expanded to 14 member association/territories, Team Canada and three wildcards. Top three teams in each pool advance to a second round robin, playing teams from the other pool. Manitoba had 3 wildcards in 2021, one in 2022, two in 2023 and 2024. Beginning in 2023, the top 6 teams (3 teams from each pool) advance where the top team in each pool receiving a bye and the other 4 teams playoff to see who advances to page qualifier, winner to page playoff seeding game followed by the page playoff.

World Women's Championship Format History

The first championship was played in 1979, The world format involved a complete round robin, with a semi final of 1vs 4 and 2 vs 3, In 2005, the Page Playoff was introduced. In 2018, the format changed where the top six teams qualified for the playoffs with the top two teams receiving byes to the semi-finals. In 2020, because of the pandemic the event was cancelled. In 2021, the event had 6 qualifiers with teams placing 1 and 2 getting a bye to the semi finals.

Provincial Final

Since 2002 the Page Playoff has been used to determine the champion. In the 18 years of this playoff system, the winner of the 1 vs 2 game has gone on to win on 9 occasions. On 4 occasions the loser of the 1 vs 2 game has come back to win (2003 Spencer, 2008, Jones, 2011 Overton Clapham and 2016 Einarson). On 5 occasions the 3 vs 4 winner has claimed the championship. (2005, 2007, 2012 Jones, 2010 Thurston and 2014 Carey). Teams skipped by Lois Fowler (2004), Jennifer Jones (2015) and (2023) have completed the championship with unbeaten 9-0 records. Since 2020, the event has used a three team playoff.
